Bringing Hope Online

Congratulations to Raquel in year 3 for her brilliant contribution to our recent summer fun competition.

Raquel made this video with her dad for Brazil's father's day, which is in August.

The video is 3 minutes long and features her and her father in various outfits, mimicking each other and generally having a good time together.

We had so many entries from our students that choosing the best was tough job.

The winners will be receiving gifts which include toiletries and special treats for the whole family.

You can see the video on our Facebook page

Life At Home

Here are some images of our students at home. With few resources to keep them entertained, daily input from University of Life teachers is essential for lifting spirits and maintaining the mental health of our students. Schools are still not permitted to open in Fortaleza, so we continue to reach out with creative activities.

Complicated Decisions

Having worked in Brazil for over 30 years, UNiViDA and our Brazilian partners, CBC, have a pretty good understanding of the way things work. Even though Covid-19 has been an unprecedented event, the authorities in Brazil continue to be very top-down driven. They are not allowing schools to give much input to the planning processes or make their own decisions about returning to classes based on their unique circumstances and capacity.

Over the last few weeks, authorities have been rolling out a series of requirements including significant structural changes to school buildings that wish to re-open. This poses huge challenges to schools, particularly in poorer areas of the city like ours.

CBC is an after-school program but falls in the category of education, and so these requirements also apply to us.

Given the environment and space that we have, our preference would be to open our facility up for students in a safe way, holding outdoor classes with limited numbers. However, to date it doesn't seem like this is possible without running the risk of being fined.

For now we are going to focus on what we can do, safely and without putting our organization at risk.

Here's a look at what we've got planned for the next few weeks.

Radiating Hope In Our Community

Learning Packs for every student

Online Events

More Food Parcels

Daily Online Interaction

Improvements to project grounds

Feb 2020

Sponsor a Learning Pack £15

We are preparing physical learning packs for each of our students to start a new term. The pack will include reading material, school supplies and exercises, and will be prepared by class teachers.

Your support will help us let these children know that they are special.
